Our current committees include:

Policy Committee: Learn about local, state, regional and national policy legislation and proposals that impact energy efficiency in the Midwest. Receive monthly email updates and listen in on 6 topic-specific webinars each year with MEEA's policy experts.

Building Policy Committee: Just getting started! Join the conversation about building energy codes, efforts around buildings like building performance standards, stretch codes, energy benchmarking and other related topics.

Market Solutions & Education Committee: Review and discuss program trends across the industry and collaborate with MEEA staff and other members in planning quarterly webinars about emerging issues and program areas.

Membership Committee: Enhance the value of membership with new opportunities and incentives for MEEA members, develop strategies for marketing and promoting membership, identify new prospects and assist with recruitment. Participate in 4 calls a year with the membership team.

DEI Committee: Help MEEA's internal and industry-wide DEI efforts to better the industry. Take part in ongoing discussion and setting priorities to direct the committee. Application is required.

Conference Advisory Group: Help develop the content and focus of MEEA's annual Midwest Energy Solutions Conference, identify potential speakers and sponsors, and develop marketing strategies to promote MES. Take part in monthly calls from August to January.

Inspiring Efficiency Awards Review Group: Review and score applications for MEEA's Inspiring Efficiency Awards. Take part in discussions to help choose the winners of the IEAs. Active September to November.

Utility Research and Development Collaborative (Utility members only): This collaborative provides data and information on emerging technology opportunities and best practice program delivery strategies. Engage in a forum for utilities to discuss high-level strategies, energy saving potential, evaluation challenges and the evolution of current programs.
